

CANDID SYNC

Press Release

ALWAYS CAPTURE THE MOMENT

Candid Sync Announces the Launch of
The First On-Demand Photography Booking Service

In today's social media and content-driven age, so many of us are always looking for quality photos. And the amount of great photographers looking for work has never been higher. Despite this seemingly perfect match, the two haven't been brought together so that creators and photographers can work together efficiently and effectively.

Candid Sync is the first and only on-demand photography booking service. We offer photoshoots for anybody within minutes, all within a simple app interface. With the rise of photo-driven social media, everybody from influencers, to travelers, to businesses need high-quality photos. And, you never know when that perfect setting will pass by.

Whether for an awe-inspiring tourist attraction, a planned influencer shoot, the gym, the office, or an unexpected perfect moment, Candid Sync brings photographers right to you within minutes. We believe this service will change photography.

Picture (pun-intended) Candid Sync changing photography the way ride-sharing services changed transportation. With widespread access to smartphones, we can now use a better system to book photography sessions.

In the coming days, we will be launching Candid Sync in New York City. We have a great group of varied, experienced photographers already on board, and will be adding more to our team, allowing them to work as much or as little as they like. After our New York launch, we will be rapidly expanding to a nationwide service in major cities, tourist destinations, and more.

We are thrilled to announce our mission to help everybody capture life's special moments.
